Three Killed in Plane Crash Here

BADLY BURNED BODIES IDENTIFIED BY PARENTS

BULLETIN

Sheriff Carl Black said at 3 p.m. that positive identification had been made by Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dodson of their son, Edward who was killed in the crash. The identification tag with an inscription "Punky" was on their sons wrist. They also identified some government clothing he was wearing.

Paul Burke, football companion of Graham, was at the air port and said that he remembered the position the men took in the rear seat, and thus Graham was identified.

Mrs. Dodson was also at the air port when her son went aboard the plane and took off. The plane was piloted by Douglas Houston.

The badly burned bodies of three Cameron boys, identified as Edward R. Dodson, Douglas Houston and Gillis Graham, were taken from a demolished plane at noon Saturday on the Jim Matthews farm near Yarrelton.

The plane was seen to crash around the noon hour by Mrs. Bud Johnson who called Sheriff Carl C. Black. The sheriff went to the scene of the crashed plane and assisted in taking the bodies from the wreck.

According to the sheriff the plane was seen to catch fire shortly after it had passed over the Johnson home and a moment later it crashed into a field.

The bodies were burned beyond recognition and it was not until late in the afternoon that they were identified by their parents as Dodson, Graham and Houston.

Douglas Houston was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston of Cameron and Graham was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Graham of Cameron. Dodson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dodson and a discharged war veteran.

Sheriff Black said that the pilot's book was found beneath the body of Houston who was driving the plane. A check up revealed that Houston had obtained the plane in Temple and had flown it to Cameron and landed to pick up Graham and Dodson. They were going to Temple where the plane was to be left and they were to return to Cameron by bus.

The plane belonged to a Temple airport. Houston had been taking flying lessons at the municipal airport in Cameron and it was understood that Graham and Dodson also were learning to fly.

An early report said that one of the victims was Leonard Burke and that Bruce Price was on the plane. This error was corrected when both young men were seen later trying to identify the bodies of their friends.

An ambulance from the Green Funeral home brought the body back from the wreck that was identified as that of Douglas Houston.

An ambulance from the Marek-Burns Funeral Home brought back two bodies that were identified as those of Gillis Graham and Edward Dodson.

The plane belonged to the Reed Flying Service in Temple, it was disclosed by A. W. McCullin who said that Douglas Houston had checked out in the plane at Temple.

Mr. McCullin said he had talked twice with the Civil Aeronautics Association and disclosed that the Association said no investigation was thought needed at this time.

The body of Houston was the last to be removed from the plane. Beneath his body was a leather covered pilot's book, partially burned but in legible entry was the information that he had checked out with the plane.

The bodies of Graham and Dodson were first removed. From the wrist of Dodson was taken a small identification tag with the name "Punky" scrawled with a knife or sharp instrument.

Mrs. C. B. Hewitt of Cameron, spent the week end in Grosebeck visiting friends.

W. A. (BILL) MORRISON FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

W. A. (Bill) Morrison, War Veteran with 3 years of service in the battle zones of the European theatre, will be a candidate for County Attorney in the July Primary for the nomination, he has just announced.

Tech Sgt. Morrison, at the beginning of the war in 1942, resigned the office of County Attorney and volunteered for service. Late in 1945 he was discharged and currently has been looking after private interests.

His announcement was received with enthusiasm here and over the entire county. In the army Morrison was with the Intelligence Service, directing counter espionage. His story remains a secret until such time as he can tell of his experiences.

In making his announcement for the Democratic Nomination for the office, he said:

"In the spring of 1942, shortly after Pearl Harbor and while I was serving my second term as Prosecutor of Milam County, I resigned this office and volunteered for the Army. I served three years overseas and received four battle stars in combat as a Tech Sergeant.

"I do not state this as a recommendation for your support, because it was much less than many Milam county boys gave for their country.

"I do not, however, come back after four years and ask for your vote on the basis of the experience which I gained in the past as your servant.

"I wish to thank the people of Milam county for the great friendship which they have shown me in the past and assure you that I shall always strive to render to you the best service of which I am capable.

"W. A. (Bill) Morrison."

WARRANTS ISSUED BY CITY COUNCIL HERE

The warrants are issued to Citizens National Bank and bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. The total interest cost will be $2200 as the warrants run for ten years, one warrant a year.

The total cost of this newest investment in the street department will be in excess of twelve thousand dollars. In the past two years the city has spent near $30,000 in its street department with no permanent street improvement.

The city also voted to spend money for the rodeo grounds for the Centennial program.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

WHEN his son came back from college, a California capitalist started to worry. The young man had been learning all about forward passes, but he hadn't passed forward very much anyhow. He could talk fast, and never had to stop to think of anything to say. If he stopped to think maybe he wouldn't of said any of the things he said.

So the dad advised the boy to read the Bible every day. He offered him a new sport model car if he'd read the New Testament through. So the boy spent a half day at the job.

"Ain't that a great book?" says his dad to him that night.

"Well, maybe you think so. After you've been to college like I have you don't think it's so hot. Why, the guy that wrote it had no originality at all. The thing is pretty near made up of quotations and famous sayings."

When the war ended he was in Japan and with the rank of Sergeant. He was killed four days after his discharge from the service.

Sgt. Dodson was discharged on March 12, 1946 and returned to his home in Cameron where his father is chief mechanic at the John Muse garage.

Friends here and elsewhere extend their deepest sympathy to the bereaved parents and relatives over the untimely death of one who had demonstrated many of the characteristics of friend making and success in the world he so lately defended as a member of the armed forces.

DOUGLAS HOUSTON IS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Douglas Lee Houston, 18, victim of an aeroplane crash at noon Saturday, one of three to lose their lives when flames consumed them, was buried in Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Sunday, March 17, 1946.

Houston met his death while piloting the plane which was seen to crash in flames on the Matthews farm at noon Saturday. Two others, Sgt. Edward R. Dodson, 22, lately discharged from the army, and Gillis Graham, 17, high school student and football star, died in the crash.

The men were on their way to Temple with Houston at the controls of the ship. They had taken off around noon at the municipal airport in Cameron for Temple where Houston earlier in the day had checked out with the plane. They planned to return to Cameron by bus and Graham and Dodson were passengers on the trip back to Temple where the plane was to be checked back to the Reed Flying School.

Douglas Lee Houston was the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston of Cameron. He was born Douglas Lee Woodson in 1928 and adopted into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston on April 23, 1933.

Funeral services were held at First Baptist church at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, March 17, 1946 with Rev. C. W. Sanders, pastor, conducting. Interment was made in Oak Hill Cemetery with the Green Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends who came with hearts made deeply sorrowful over the tragic and untimely death of Douglas, who all remember affectionately and well for his exemplary life in this community. Deepest sympathy was expressed to the bereaved parents over their loss. Too young to have participated in the war, Douglas was looking forward to the prospect of doing his share and was early attracted to flying. He had made progress and has been given a pilot's license.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston, and two sisters, Mrs. Ted McDonald of Freeport, and Mrs. Audis Lott of Camern.

Surviving also are his father, T. L. Woodson of Snyder; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Reichburg of Big Springs, and Mrs. E. B. Boone of Tyler; four brothers, T. L. Woodson of Sweetwater, John Paul Woodson of Big Springs, Reginald Woodson and O. B. Woodson, both of New York.

Pallbearers were: Bobbie Jackson, Jimmy O'Neill, T. J. O'Neill, Bruce Price, Bobby Kirk and Richard Burke.

SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN FLAYS POWER LOBBY

WASHINGTON. — Speaker Sam Rayburn told the house Monday that Washington "for the past six months has been loaded down and has been seething with utility lobbyists."

They are interested, Rayburn said, in blocking public power funds and currently are "trying to kill off" an appropriation for the southwest power authority, a government agency operating in the interior department.

Rayburn made his remarks just before the house passed and sent to the senate a $1,102,556,017 agriculture department supply bill for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Included in the measure is borrowing authority of $250,000,000 for the rural electrification administration.

The house voted the REA fund as it passed the agriculture supply bill on a voice vote.

Of the total in the bill, $573,601,949 is in direct appropriations, $111,454,068 in reappropriations, $50,000,000 in transfer of funds previously supplied, and $367,500,000 in loan authorizations.

When Rayburn rose to make one of his rare speeches in the house, the usually noisy chamber stilled. The bald Texan said he wanted to warn the house and everybody interested in rural electrification against demonstrations that might come from utility companies.

GILLIS GRAHAM BURIED IN CAMERON SUNDAY

Gillis Graham, Jr., 17, who lost his life in an airplane crash at noon Saturday, March 16, 1946 near Yarrelton in this county, was buried in Cameron Sunday, March 17, 1946.

Funeral services were held at First Baptist Church Sunday, March 17, with Rev. C. W. Sanders, pastor, conducting and the Marek-Burns Funeral Home directing arrangements, with interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Graham, popular high school student, was a member of the Yoemen football team last spring, playing in the line at right end. He had one more year of eligibility.

Graham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Graham, Sr., and grandson of H. E. Graham, widely known business man, was killed when the plane in which he was riding with Edward R. Dodson, 22, and Douglas Houston, 18, around noon Saturday, crashed. The plane had taken off from the municipal field in Cameron shortly before noon. The men were going to Temple where the plane had been checked out earlier by Houston who was piloting the ship. The ship was seen to catch fire and crash on the Matthews farm near Yarrelton at the noon hour Saturday.

The bodies of the three occupants of the ship were burned beyond recognition and it was several hours before the identity of the occupants were known.

Gillis Graham, Jr., was born in Cameron on March 2, 1929, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Graham, Sr. He attended the grade schools here and entered high school and was due to graduate in the Class of 1947.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon just an hour after his friend and companion, Douglas Houston, had been buried, was a sorrowful occasion for hundreds, including members of the football squad at Yoe High school, eight of whom made up the list of pallbearers.

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. The tragic death of the popular student and athlete had deeply affected the hearts of hundreds who knew and appreciated him for his worth and promise. It was a sorrowful occasion and mingling their tears with those of his other friends were his companions of the football field, students generally in the high school and faculty members as well. The entire community was one in a common bond of sorrow over his passing.

Pallbearers were: Jimmy O'Neill, Joe Hawkins, Richard Burke, Paul Burke, Jimmy Marek, Russell Wallace, T. J. O'Neill, and Pete Kunz.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Graham, Sr., one sister, Virginia Graham, 12, and grammar school student; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Graham, and grandmother, Mrs. Jeff Tindall of Rosebud.

GRADY STIDHAM WILL RUN FOR COMMISSIONER

Grady Stidham, Commissioner for Precinct 2 for Milam county, is a candidate for re-election subject to the nominating primary election on July 27, 1946.

In becoming a candidate for re-election to this office, Mr. Stidham has an impressive record of public service to offer the people, plus years of experience in administering the duties of the office. He also has the solicitation of many friends and supporters in the Precinct to run again for the office and in making his announcement acknowledges with deep appreciation all pledges of support.

The office of Commissioner is important as it relates to the government of the county. The Commissioner Court is the business agency of the county and as such must administer the fiscal affairs of the county and men who serve are best qualified for their experience and background of service, his friends point out.

As Commissioner for Precinct 2, Mr. Stidham has held a place of influence on the court for years and his district is now and has always been under his management, in splendid financial condition.

Amazing Discovery in a hearing aid

A big improvement has been made in a hearing aid now welcomed by thousands. It is a new hearing aid that does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, battery case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. So small it fits the palm of the hand. About half the weight and bulk of most hearing aids. The tone is natural, noiseless, clear and powerful. The makers of Beltone are so proud of their achievement that they have arranged for their representative, Beltone Co. at 1610 North Sixth St., Waco, Texas, to send you a free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Write them today. (43-4tc)

Small Settlements Mark Vast Northwest Territory

Lying between the Arctic ocean and the northern boundaries of the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, the Northwest Territory accounts for more than a third of Canada's area. On its more than a million square miles live some 11,000 people, mostly Eskimos and Indians—an average of one person to 116 square miles. "Centers of population" in northern Canada signify trading posts, missions, police barracks, military stations and Eskimo and Indian villages.

Civilization has made Eskimos and Indians less inclined to volunteer their services, less receptive to pay for menial work. Some Eskimos have developed large-scale trading stations, and pay the Dominion government substantial income taxes. Eskimos are usually more friendly than Indians. Penetration of the white man has improved far-northern diets. The larger trading posts stock California canned fruits and tinned delicacies from England. Before the war fresh oranges and bananas were no longer regarded as curiosities.

From the highlands of the Stikine, Mackenzie, Ogilvie and Richardson ranges in the west, northern Canada levels off into an area which is the northern extension of the continent's great interior plain. Farther to the east are the broad stretches of the Laurentian Upland or Canadian Shield, a treeless tract broken by the wide expanse of Hudson bay. The breadth of this land belt is indicated by the fact that it includes five time zones. When it is 8 a. m. in the east it is only 4 a. m. in the west.

Seek to Boost Citric Oil Price With Concentrate

Citrus peel oil is in fair demand as a flavoring agent (its largest use is in beverages), but less oil is produced than could be: its recovery is more or less optional in canning operations for oranges and grapefruit. A way around the comparatively low price for orange oil ($1.40 to $1.75 per pound) has been sought by one Florida canner who makes a concentrated oil.

A 10 to 1 concentration removes most of the limonene, the terpene which constitutes about 90 per cent of orange oil and is largely responsible for its instability. The concentrate keeps better than the original oil, and the limonene finds application as a perfume or odor killer in cheap soaps.

In the industrial preparation of citrus juices, a main problem is to extract the maximum juice without including any of the bitter oil from the skin, the journal explains.

Cotton Electricity

The popular parlor magic effect of static electricity in causing the hair to stand on end on the head of a suitably charged subject standing on an insulating rubber mat is no joke when it is injected into the cotton ginning business, the department of agriculture points out. In areas where both cotton and air are very dry, static electricity is generated by the movement of the cotton through the gin. The effect is to clog the gin with balls of cotton; large lumps adhere to metal part; and the fire hazard goes past the danger point. The ginning machinery must be stopped and the electrified cotton cleaned out before operations can be resumed. When the lint cotton gets into the press it is so fluffy and resilient that it is often impossible to press it into a bale of the desired weight. Many remedies were tried by the Cotton Ginning Laboratory at Stoneville, Miss., including mechanical de-electrifying and moisture, but nothing proved satisfactory until a fine mist composed of water and sulphated oil was introduced into the system.

Like Snow Suits

For playtime in cold weather, children like snowsuits better than any other type of garment. It doesn't make any difference whether they are "hand-me-downs" or "brand new," just so they are warm, durable and comfortable. A suit doesn't need to be made of a heavy material to be warm. Two or three layers of light-weight fabrics tightly woven and specially treated, will keep out wind, rain and snow. Be sure the trousers have extra width and length in the seat so that the child can stoop and bend easily. The legs, too, should be wide and bloused at the ankles over a tight cuff so the child can kneel and squat without difficulty. One-piece suits are best for the child from two to six years old. No matter how vigorous the play, the suit won't pull apart at the waist to let in cold air.

Dust Dims Light

Sometimes a room hides its light not under a bushel but under layers of dust. Even a very thin film of dust can obscure considerable light, household management specialists say. If your home suddenly looks dim and gloomy, it may need a little extra dusting and polishing of all light centers, lamp bulbs and shades, mirrors and windows as well as all decorative objects. Dust often clings to volatile oil from cooking or smoke which has settled on light bulbs, windows and mirrors. Washing is usually a better way to remove greasy dust than dusting.

Published Stories On Firemen Starts Old Timers Thinking

Published stories of the organization of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department has started old timers to thinking and recalling events.

Today R. L. Batte, Sr., writes a communication to The Herald making a correction in a story published last week regarding the first Mayor of Cameron.

In this letter Mr. Batte makes an appreciated contribution to Centennial thinking by detailing some of the early history as it relates to the office of the Mayor.

The Herald was in error in stating that the late Capt. B. I. Arnold was the first Mayor of the city. He was the first Mayor to serve under the present incorporation which was made in 1889.

The present incorporation has persisted unbroken for 57 years. Readers of The Herald are looking forward to other letters which should follow from Mr. Batte on early day Cameron.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Stalin Lives in Class
Premier Stalin has a palatial home a few miles from the Kremlin, built beside the river by a wealthy mine owner, and surrounded by a brick wall. In his spacious office in the Kremlin hang portraits of Marx and Lenin, as well as of himself. Here he may have lunch; dinner is more formal, served in his small Kremlin apartment.

Shaking Heads and Human Liberties

It's a funny thing. Now that the war's over, there's a lot of head-shaking in our town. People saying: "What's the younger generation coming to?" "How can we end these strikes?" "The country's going to the dogs!" "There ought to be a law!" etc.

But when the younger generation was walloping the Axis "supermen"—and labor was doing the most colossal job in history—you never heard a murmur. But now that we're back to our traditional life of personal liberty, just see how the heads begin to shake again. I guess there'll always be head-shakers—folks who feel "there ought to be a law"—who believe that the best form of regulation is suppression, whether it's applied to beer or baseball.

But from where I sit, America's done pretty well with the idea of personal choice and individual liberty. I guess that's just the way Americans are made.

CENTENNIAL FUND IS GROWING RAPIDLY HERE

Cameron's Centennial fund was growing rapidly Monday with more than $5000 already subscribed and paid into the banks.

O. B. Horstmann, chairman of the finance committee, reported that $5,342.50 had been collected up to Saturday afternoon.

The goal is $10,000 and it appeared that the goal would be reached. Mr. Horstmann was enthusiastic over the prospects of reaching the full goal within the next few days.

The response is taken to indicate city-wide enthusiasm for the coming program to observe Cameron's 100 years of history.

All chairmen of sub-committees under the Central Committee are asked to meet in the district court rooms of the court house Tuesday night, March 19 at 7:45 p.m., it was announced by L. Van Perkins, chairman.

Rudolph Mayer was a business visitor in Cameron Wednesday.

Women's Society of Christian Service Meets

The Young Women's Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. R. L. Batte on Thursday afternoon, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Batte read the devotional and Mrs. W. O. Triggs gave an interesting review on the first chapter of the study of Africa.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Hilton Culpepper, A. W. McCullin, Lester Williams, Carol Green, Tom Holmes, Charles Knipp, George Wilkerson, W. O. Triggs, Olen Beasley, and Nancy and Tandy Wilkerson.

Paint Insulation

The same paint which acts as an insulator for the wall in summer also helps to keep the house warmer in winter by sealing the outside surface against moisture and keeping it from penetrating through the walls. Water is many times as rapid a conductor of heat or cold as air, which fact indicates the economy and advantage of a dry wall as compared with a water-soaked one in both summer and winter.

Mr. Cox has been a member of the club since its organization. He was named to the Board of Directors last year. He will take office in Rotary next June.

John C. Andres, who has been secretary of the club since its founding, voluntarily retired and will be succeeded by Chas. M. Hicks, who is a former president of the club.

Miss May Donaldson of Rockdale, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clark. She is Mr. Clark's niece.

W. M. Fanning is confined to his home this week with an attack of flu.

How would you CHART YOUR COURSE?

Pictured here are the records of four "life lines" of our business—four things which largely control the destiny of any business, whether it be a farm, a factory or a store. They are Wages, Materials Costs, Prices, and Profits. Suppose these were pictures of what is going on in your own affairs. How would you chart your future course from these facts?

With the proposed increase, wage rates will have risen from $0.85½ per hour in 1941 to $1.33½ in 1946—a gain of 56.1%. Weekly average would be $53.40.

By the end of 1945, prices on all commodities other than farm products and food had gone up 19.2% since 1941. Chart does not show effect of 1946 increases.

Using U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics with 1941 prices equaling 100, prices of farm machinery in 1945 were only 104.9.

Profit per dollar of sale has declined until in 1945 it was slightly less than four cents, as against 8.4 cents in 1941.

What about wages?

Wages have risen steadily for five years. Before the strike which began on January 21 in ten of our plants and which has choked off nearly all farm machinery production, earnings of employees of these plants averaged $1.15½ an hour, not including any overtime. The Union demanded a 34 cents per hour increase and a Government board has now recommended a general increase of 18 cents an hour, which would make average earnings $1.33½ an hour. Weekly average would be $53.40.

What about materials?

No one seems to know how high materials costs will go. The Government has increased steel prices as much as $12.00 a ton, with an average increase for all grades of 8.2%. Steel is the most important material we buy, but prices on other materials are also increasing.

What about prices?

There has been no general increase in our prices since they were frozen by the Government in early 1942. Since then a few small increases have been allowed where particular machines were substantially changed in design.

What about profits?

Risk is part of the American profit and loss system, so we do not, of course, ask either our customers or the Government to guarantee that we can be certain of profits each year. The chart tells the story of our profits during the war. Although Harvester produced more goods than ever before, it had no desire to get rich out of war, so our rate of profit has steadily gone down. What our 1946 profit will be is extremely uncertain.

What is the next step?

As you can see, our present situation is that with frozen prices and declining profits, we are asked to pay higher materials costs and to make the biggest wage increase in the history of the Company. Can we do this?

Wages and materials consume all but a few cents of every dollar we take in. If our prices continue frozen, and cost of wages and materials continues to rise, obviously our Company will begin to operate at a loss at some point.

The exact point at which operating at a loss would start is a matter of judgment. Government agencies and union leaders may have opinions as to where that point is. But if they turn out to be wrong, they can shrug their shoulders and say: "Well, it wasn't my responsibility. I didn't make the decision."

The management of this Company cannot and will not say that. It dares not gamble. It has to be sure. Continuation of our service to millions of customers, the future jobs of thousands of employees, and the safety of the investments of 39,000 stockholders depend on our making as correct a decision as is humanly possible.

What about future prices on farm machinery?

The judgment of Harvester's management now is that we cannot safely make the huge wage increase recommended by the Government until the Government authorizes adequate increases in the prices of farm machinery to cover the resulting increased costs.

That is not a judgment that makes us happy. The Company does not want to raise prices. We prefer to lower prices, when possible, and we know our customers prefer to have us do that. We have produced at 1942 prices, and hoped we could continue to do so. We have delayed seeking general price relief in the hope that it could be avoided. Now we are convinced that it cannot be avoided any longer. The price question must be settled. Until it is settled we do not see how we can settle the wage question. Until the wage question is settled we do not see how we can resume production and begin turning out the farm machines which we know our farmer customers need.

Because of the important stake which both farmers and city dwellers have in this controversy, we are bringing these matters to your attention. Through the cross currents of today's conditions, we are trying to chart a course that is fair to our employees, to our farmer customers, and to our stockholders.

CENTENNIAL FUNDS IN CAMERON ARE GROWING

Funds for the Centennial celebration were accumulating at a satisfactory rate although there were some disappointments when expected contributions fell below the estimated amounts.

The budget was boosted from $5000 to $10,000 and the committees are facing the job with enthusiasm and generally reports were good.

O. B. Horstmann, financial director for the Centennial, at noon Friday, said that $4295 had been deposited in the banks and that several committees had not been heard from. Thus it would appear that half the amount needed had been subscribed the first day of the drive.

The funds will be raised and the Centennial will be financed. Just how the program will work out will depend on the committees who are arranging the details.

The Centennial is to be observed on May 23, 24 and 25—three big days of entertainment, historical and modern.

Mrs. Leo A. Price is visiting her mother, Mrs. Daisy Spratt, in Cameron. Mrs. Price arrived last week by plane from San Salvador, Central America, where she has been making her home for the past several months. Her husband is with the Pan American Air Lines and could not accompany his wife home at this time. Mrs. Price is the former Elizabeth Spratt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turney have returned from Fort Worth where they met their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Roberts, and two sons, Lynn and Harold. While there they attended the fat stock show and rodeo.

Billy Peck HALE spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peck. Billy has been in the Naval service for about 17 months, and is stationed at Camp Wallace at present. He received his training at San Diego, California.

Herald Corrected On History; Mr. Batte
Writes Letter Today

March 15, 1946

Mr. J. B. White,
Editor Cameron Herald,
Dear Mr. White:

I notice in the Midget of the 14th an article that states that Cameron was first incorporated about 1889 and that Captain Arnold was the first Mayor—That is a mistake.

Cameron was first incorporated in the very last of the 70's or very early in the 80's and an old gentleman known as Captain Scholl, I think that is the way it was spelled) was either elected Mayor or was appointed, I have forgotten which. The new Mayor with C. P. Ingram as Marshal, J. H. Reese and J. G. Nehr were two of the Aldermen. I have almost forgotten just who the others were, but I will be able to place them in a few days. The incorporation only held for a year or a little more and was abolished—just why, I do not remember.

Captain Scholl was a man of some 60 years who came down from the North with his family to make his home in Milam county—a very fine family of people. C. P. Ingram, or Charlie Ingram as he was known in those days, was the father of Ab Ingram, Sr., Lamar Ingram and Willis Ingram all of this city, and Beauregard Ingram of Houston. Mr. J. H. Reese, or Uncle Jimmy as he was familiarly known, was the father of the late Dr. J. C. Reese. Uncle Jimmy came to Cameron in 1873. Mr. John G. Nehr, or Uncle Johnny as he was known all over Milam county, came to Cameron before the Civil War, and I think was one of Major Rogers' Company, the first that went out of this section of Texas. The others were old citizens and I am sure that I will be able to place them.

As you know, I am an old timer here, having lived in Cameron or within a mile and a half of the Court House all of my life, and many of the incidents long since forgotten by the younger generation, that are remembered by me. In fact there are only two or three people living in Cameron today who were born here and whom I can first remember.

Your truly,

Lee Batte.

Fertile Soil

Fertile soil is the result of a long, gradual process, a process of building up fertility over a period of many years. When mined year after year by crops which take much from it and return little to it, the soil's fertility cannot be restored quickly. Successful farmers know this, and they manage their soil accordingly, rotating, planting cover crops, and carrying out other practices which will restore it and keep it productive.

Sonny Tufts, Veronica
Lake Star in Film

Adapted from Augusta Tucker's popular novel, "Miss Susie Slagle's" is Paramount's film version of the romantic story of young doctors in the making. It comes Thursday for two days at the Cameron Theatre with Veronica Lake, Sonny Tufts and newcomer Joan Caulfield starred. The picture brings back to the screen Lillian Gish, a veteran actress who has been beloved by two generations of theatre-goers. Miss Gish is "Susie," proprietress of the Slagle boarding house for medical students and around her and the house she oversees pivots the action of the film—sometimes gay, sometimes poignant, steeped in the tradition of a profession that touches the lives of everyone. This is the story of those bright ambitious boys who gradually grow in stature till they become the indispensable men in white. It is also the story of the women who inspire them to greater achievements.

First acclaimed for her performance in George Abbott's Broadway hit, Kiss and Tell, Joan Caulfield is reputedly one of the screen's most promising "finds." She is certainly one of the few actresses to achieve stardom in her first picture. "Miss Susie Slagle's" stars Sonny Tufts in a role that is completely different from anything he has hitherto portrayed on the screen. No longer the jovial funster, Sonny is instead a doctor tormented by the fear of seeing people die. Veronica Lake is back in the nurses' uniform she wore with such distinction in "So Proudly We Hail."

According to reports, "Miss Susie Slagle's" is a quality production with a story that is tender, warm-hearted and deeply satisfying.

Nation's Steel Capacity Is Widely Distributed

Not only is the iron and steel industry's present annual capacity bigger than ever—ample to meet all peacetime requirements—it is more widely distributed over the nation than ever before. Part of the industry's 1945 steel ingot capacity of 95,505,280 tons is located in four states: Oregon, Virginia, Tennessee and Utah, which in 1938 had no such facilities. The grand total of states having steel capacity is now 27.

Altogether, 25 states have open hearth capacity now against 22 states in 1938. Six states have capacity for the production of Bessemer steel currently and 16 states contain electric furnace capacity against 12 in 1938. Tennessee, Virginia, Oklahoma and Oregon are the newcomers in electric furnace steel-making as a result of the industry's expansion during the seven-year interval.

The nation's present capacity for making 67,313,890 net tons of pig iron and ferro alloys per year is now located in 18 states. The industry's coke is produced in 16 states. Pennsylvania is still the leading state in open hearth capacity. It has 26,218,350 tons of capacity annually and 374 furnaces. The runner-up state is Ohio, which has 169 open hearth furnaces with 15,350,000 tons capacity. Other states which constitute the top ten in open hearth capacity are Indiana, Illinois, New York, Maryland, Alabama, Michigan, West Virginia and California.

Here Are Pointers for Buying Pots and Pans

Points to check when buying pans and kettles, say house management specialists are: (1) Balance—the pan and its handle should be well-balanced so that the pan stands steady even when empty. Too heavy a handle makes a tipsy pan that is awkward to use and may cause dangerous spills of hot water or food.

(2) Surface—the fewer the cracks at joinings, the more durable and easy to clean it will be.

(3) Bottom—a flat bottom helps keep a pan steady and means faster heating and more economical use of fuel. Pans for use on electric stoves should have dull-finished bottoms to save the fuel. A dull finish absorbs heat in contrast to a shiny finish which reflects it.

Straight sides are more economical of heat and also of space on the stove than flaring sides. Handles of pans and covers should be comfortable to grasp and insulated against heat. A close-fitting cover is essential for many cooking processes, so buying a pan and cover together is often worth the extra money. Thin, lightweight aluminum is less expensive and less durable than the heavy metal. Thin ware is easily dented, bent and scorches easier than heavy wear. Heavy wear is economical.

Sheet Durability

Durability in sheets and pillowcases depends on weight per square yard and thread count—that is, the number of threads running in each direction per inch. Many sheets come marked as to thread count, and some manufacturers also indicate weight per yard. For muslin sheetings, this count should not be less than 62 or the fabric may lack tensile strength. In percales it will be higher still. In fact, the only difference between muslin and percale is the fineness of the weave—which is another way of saying that percale has a much higher thread count. The housewife should note the weight of the sheets she considers buying because thread count alone doesn't tell the whole story. The size and strength of the yarn, indicated by weight, should be taken into account. If the yarns from which the fabric is woven are as strong as they should be, the sheet will have a good weight.

Frozen Milk

Frozen homogenized milk, used by the army during the war to supply milk to men on hospital ships, now offers promise for sea-going travelers as well as for milk-short areas such as the Panama Canal Zone, Bermuda and other outlying islands, dairy specialists of the department of agriculture believe. The milk served on hospital ships is pasteurized, homogenized and kept frozen in paper containers until thawed for serving. It holds its fresh flavor well for as long as three and four months, and has been favorably received by military patients who drank it at the rate of thousands of quarts a week. To save space on ships, the army experimented with frozen concentrated milk, but it did not prove successful because it does not hold its flavor nearly as long as the frozen whole milk.

Sheet Classifications

Textile experts in the department of agriculture group sheets into five classifications—light, medium, and heavy weight muslin, fine counts and percales. Heavy muslin is the strongest of the lot; but it is heavy for the laundress to handle and the weight swells laundry bills if sent to commercial laundries. At the other end of the scale, percales are tops for fineness and good looks, but they may be slow in returning to market. Any sheet worth the money is firm, almost sizing-free, is torn rather than cut from the bolt and is hemmed with strong thread and short, even stitches.

SANTA FE ADVERTISING TEXAS SOIL ADVANTAGES

Texas' widespread soil and climatic conditions with its diversified farming is described in a new booklet issued by the agricultural department of the Santa Fe Railway.

For those who wish to own a farm or ranch and be their own boss, the booklet furnishes information on the various areas of Texas and other parts of the "Santa Fe Southwest." The publication will be widely distributed among war veterans and others interested in new fields of agriculture and industrial development.

"Texas is the leading agricultural state in the nation," cites Agriculture, Santa Fe's new booklet, "It is widespread in its farm and livestock production." Its wheat and grains, cotton, rice, fruit and peanuts, vegetables and livestock produced in the long Gulf Coast region, makes the states' production of phenomenal importance and value.

In 1944 Texas harvested 29 million acres of field crops, not including the 300,000 acres of citrus crops and other fruits. Rice, wheat, sorghum grain, cotton and oats are cited as the chief field crops, however, other areas produce valuable crops of onions, tomatoes, peanuts, fruits, and many other crops.

With its rolling plains, Texas is the leading livestock area in the United States, using approximately 90 million acres for livestock production. "The total number of cattle and calves was estimated at 75,500,000 head, including 1,593,000 head of milk stock on Texas farms and ranches on January 1, 1945." Sheep and lamb raising puts Texas on top in wool production (with an annual production of 75 million pounds. "This is more wool than is produced by any other two states in the nation," says the booklet. Approximately 85 percent of the angora goats of the U.S.A. are in Texas, producing 171,000,000 pounds of mohair a year. The favorable climate of Texas makes the "opportunities in chicken and turkey raising outstandingly good," rating Texas as the top turkey state.

The booklet divides Texas into ten areas giving much valuable information on the soil and climatic conditions, dependable crops of each area and figures on crop production. Other states covered in the booklet, which was prepared by H. M. Bainer, General Agricultural Agent for the Santa Fe, are Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Mrs. A. W. Brickett is ill in the Newton Memorial Hospital. Her children who are visiting her here are Mrs. Melvin Ethridge of Fort Worth, Mrs. Olen Hanson of Houston, Mrs. Theodore Allen of Houston and Miss Adelaide Brickett of Temple.

New Paint Shop Is Now Open In City

Cameron's newest business is a paint shop just opened by Truett Chambers, discharged war veteran. The shop is located near the Weems gin and already Mr. Chambers has received a considerable volume of business.

In this shop a complete sign and painting service will be maintained. For a number of years before he entered the army Mr. Chambers was engaged in this kind of work. He was wounded in North Africa and sent back to the states. After his arrival he took up his old trade and has been serving Cameron.

The new shop will meet a definite need in this community.

UNITED STATES PLEDGES AID AGAINST AGGRESSOR

WASHINGTON.—The United States was reported Friday night to have assured both Iran and Turkey that it will stand firm with them against any foreign aggressive actions which violate the principles of the United Nations charter.

American policy, as lately presented by Ambassador Wallace Murray at Tehran and as given some weeks ago to the Turks in a series of talks between Ankara and Washington representatives, is based entirely on United Nations charter commitments. It avoids any special assurances which might go beyond the limits of the charter.

Diplomatic officials who can not be named declared that this government has "exercised special care not to give any of the countries 'blank check promises' which might encourage them to provoke Russian actions against them."

Murray's visit to Iranian government officials at Tehran came up at

Secretary of State Byrnes' news conference Friday and Byrnes declined to discuss the subject at this time.

He also declined to make any statement about the known decision of the United States government to bring the Iranian question again before the United Nations security council in New York late this month unless Iran itself takes such action.

In the senate, meanwhile, Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who was one of the American delegation that helped organize the United Nations, called for continuous sessions of the council "during these current hair trigger days" so that representatives of disputing governments can talk out their troubles man to man each morning. He pointed out that the UNO charter provides for such continuous sessions.

Clarkson H. D. Club Meets

The Clarkson Home Demonstration Club met on March 7, at the home of Mrs. Joe Hauk, with six members, the agent, and one visitor, Mrs. Eugene Sell, present.

For the program, Miss Johnson demonstrated steps in upholstering furniture. All members took part in working on two rockers which have been finished.

After the meeting adjourned, the hostess served tempting chicken salad sandwiches, cherry nut cake, and iced tea.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Perry Strickler on March 21.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my thanks to all the members of the Church of Christ and to all my friends and neighbors for what they did for me during my illness. Words cannot express my appreciation.

I know without God, my friends and neighbors, and my brothers and sisters in Christ, life's road would be hard to travel.

Although I am not able to attend Church yet, with my prayers and yours and the will of God, I will be back with you soon.

Mrs. Richard Cole.

Montgomery Role Parallel to Own Navy Experience

Tradition has it that the sailor on his day off goes rowing on the park lake. In Lieutenant Commander Robert Montgomery's case tradition was right. No sooner did he doff the Navy togs he has been wearing for the past four years than he got right behind the wheel of a boat again—and a PT boat at that.

As Lieutenant John Brickley in "They Were Expendable," coming to the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday, Montgomery portrays the skipper of a Motor Torpedo Boat who becomes a hero during the early battles around the Philippines. In many instances events in the picture parallel his own fighting career.

"I was executive officer of MTB Squadron 5, officer in tactical command of Division 15, and commanding officer of PT 107 just after Pearl Harbor," he recalls. "Our outfit was sent to guard the Panama Canal. I was stationed there for two and a half months before being reassigned to cruiser duty which took us into the Guadalcanal area."

Montgomery continued in active naval service for three more years. Tropical fever contracted in the South Pacific finally put him on the inactive duty list. His first film assignment after his return to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was "They Were Expendable," co-starring John Wayne.

Montgomery says he has been taking things easy since his return but his words belie his actions. Close to fighting men for so long, he refuses to lose contact with them as a civilian. The Red Cross, Treasury Department, United Service Organization and Army and Navy short-wave broadcasting units have come to look upon him as a standby. Since he has been out of active service, he has made literally dozens of hospital visits, bond pitches, Red Cross appeals, War Department broadcasts, canteen appearances and military donations. His home is constantly filled with servicemen guests; boys on leave or recuperating patients from nearby naval hospitals.

Now that he is home, he is looking forward to continuing his screen career. He claims no preference in the way of roles. Asked the kind of pictures he wants to make, he replied, "Good ones."

Veterans' Claims To Be Taken Every Two Weeks After March 25

Faced with a backlog of 140,000 unpaid servicemen's adjustment allowance claims, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission after Monday, March 25, will begin taking veteran claims once every two weeks instead of once a week.

Reason: the Texas Commission can not obtain additional machines and equipment to handle the increased number of claims filed weekly. Payments to the unemployed recently discharged veterans will be speeded by the change-over. Also, the Commission is seeking to reduce administrative expenses of this rapidly growing program, which now has more than 110,000 veterans actively claiming allowances.

Overall amount of the entitlements under Title V of the G. I. Bill of Rights — a maximum of 52 weekly payments of $20 each — will not be affected. However, under the new procedure, unemployed veterans will report every 14 days instead of seven days and they will claim two weekly payments instead of one. Self-employed claim-taking procedures will remain unchanged.

An agent for the Veteran's Administration, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission administers the servicemen's readjustment allowances phase of the G. I. Bill of Rights in Texas. Administrative expenses, as well as allowance funds, are supplied by the Veteran's Administration out of monies voted by Congress for that purpose.

The many friends of Robert Andrew McLane will be glad to know his condition is slightly improved. He has been a patient in the Newton Memorial Hospital for several weeks. Mr. McLane is an old timer in this community.

Brenda Diane Kirk, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Kirk of Cameron, is among the patients at Newton Memorial Hospital and is reported doing nicely.

festated a daily concern for his welfare.

ENGLAND SAYS INDIA TO HAVE HER FREEDOM

Centuries old British domination in India was near an end Friday as the London government offered the middle eastern empire freedom.

The news came at a time when Soviet Russia is especially critical of British occupation of war-conquered territories.

The Indian people have struggled for freedom for centuries. Bloodshed has marred the relations between the British and Indian people who have been led by Mahatma Gandhi for more than 30 years.

Winston Churchill, who stirred up bitter feeling in Russia by proposing an Anglo-American alliance to keep the peace of the world, will speak tonight. The influential London Times called upon the former Prime Minister not to antagonize Joseph Stalin further.

The situation in Iran was said still critical with government troops drawn up and ready to fight the Russians if they advance upon the capital.

THE CAMERON HERALD—9

ANNOUNCING

In Washington President Truman was understood to be manifesting no concern over developments in the middle east and that he has no fears that Russia will make trouble. In London the report was the same.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moses have announced the arrival of a six-pound son, George Carroll, born Saturday, March 9, at the Cameron Hospital. Mrs. Moses will be remembered as the former Miss Marijane Brock.

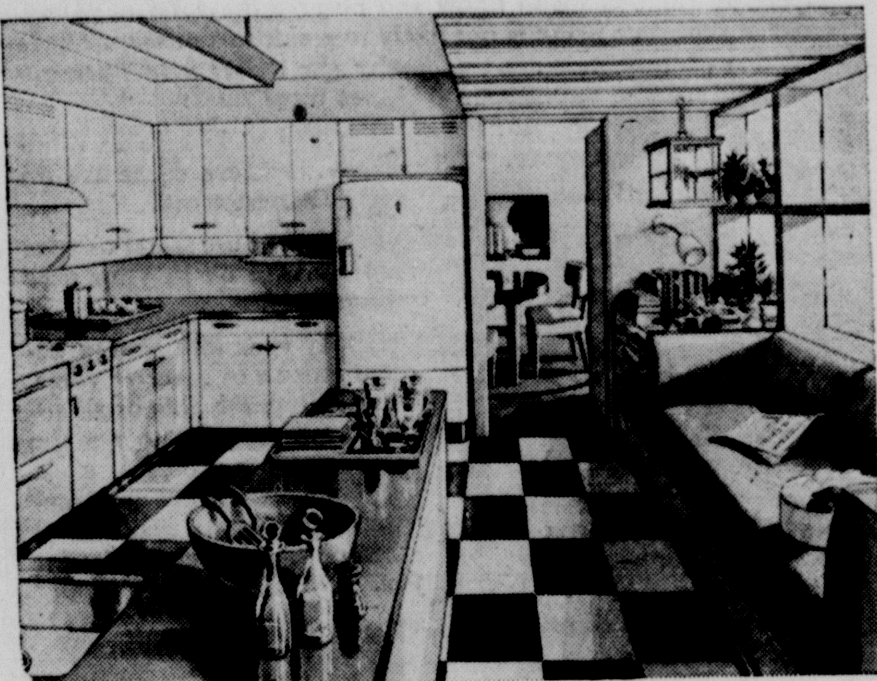

Among the patients from Milam county in the Newton Memorial Hospital is Mrs. I. B. Pitts of Gause, and her friends will be glad to know she is doing well.

Capt. B. I. Arnold Was Cameron's First Mayor; Elected in Year 1889

Capt. B. I. Arnold, late father of Mrs. Mamie Hefley, was Cameron's first mayor, elected in 1889 following the incorporation of the city.

The late Captain Arnold was sent to Texas by the Federal Government shortly after the Civil War, liked Cameron and became one of the best loved pioneers and was chosen Mayor by Southerners whose cause had been crossed by the Union.

In the publication of the story of the organization of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department, the publishers are indebted to Judge Jeff T. Kemp for a correction. The late J. M. Ralston was not serving as Mayor at the time of the organization of the Fire Department as stated yesterday. He was Cameron's third Mayor and the dates were confused by the publishers.

Capt. B. I. Arnold was the first Mayor. He was succeeded by the late A. J. Lewis, father of Mrs. Giles L. Avriett of Austin and of the late

Jack Lewis of Cameron.

In a spirited campaign of that day Mr. Ralston defeated Mr. Lewis and became the city's third Mayor.

At the time fixed in the story of yesterday of the organization of the Fire Department was the period in which Capt. Arnold was serving.

The records were not kept in order. It appears the city was incorporated prior to 1889 but there is no proof available. The city was surveyed out as a town site in 1945. It was incorporated under the General Laws of Texas and its government has never changed. Cameron is one of few backward cities that continues to operate under general law provisions.

Social Science Students At Yoe High Study Nation's Problems

The Yoe High school students enrolled in American History, World History, Texas History and Civics study our nation's problems in addition to the regular textbook outlines.

Current problems of controversial nature are discussed, such as race relations, labor management, atomic energy control, and political issues of foreign and domestic origin. Problems furnishing a background for understanding our own country are emphasized.

The "Weekly News Review" is studied regularly by these classes. From this study, up-to-the-minute information is given students who might not otherwise have access to news articles.

This is a rather popular department in Yoe High as almost half of the student body is taking these subjects.

Lt. (jg) C. E. Moses, Jr., of Cameron has received his honorable discharge at a Naval Air Station in Honolulu, and will soon reach the States.

Telephone
switchboards
are busier
than ever

Telephone switchboards are mighty busy these days. We have less reserve equipment to handle surges of calls which occur during bad weather or in advance of holidays. With hundreds of families without telephone service, it has seemed best to use up such reserve equipment to bring service to some of the people waiting.

To telephone users generally, during most hours of the day, there will be little difference in the speed of service. During busy hours, when the heaviest volume of calls is made, some people may find the operator is not so prompt as usual in answering.

As fast as possible, we are pushing the installation of new equipment here, so that we can bring service to all those who are waiting.

Marcel Taylor Weds William Kerr at Milano Methodist Church

Milano Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Marcel Taylor, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Taylor, to William Kerr of New Orleans, La.

Rev. J. F. Garrett read the double-ring service before an altar banked with baskets of Easter lilies and greenery, flanked by lighted tapers in tall candelabra.

Miss Shirley Horstmann of Cameron, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Harsha of Cameron, who sang "I Love You Truly."

Miss Mary Taylor, attended her sister as bridesmaid and Mrs. Willie Taylor was maid of honor. W. T. Wright served as best man, and Miss Sarah Seelinger of Austin and Miss Ruth McGuire of New York were ushers. S. W. Taylor played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue coat suit, with white veil, hat and gloves. She carried a white Bible and white carnations.

A reception honoring the couple was held at the home where Mrs. G.

W. Hilliard presided at the punch bowl, with Mesdames Lumpkin, Brennan and Williams serving the cake. The reception rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers.

Mr. Kerr, who served three years in the Armed Forces, has recently been discharged.

The couple left Sunday for a brief wedding trip. They will make their home at 1218 Cleveland Avenue, New Orleans, La.

Says Vegetables Prove Most Efficient Crop

Cabbage, spinach, potatoes and similar vegetable crops use food value, land and labor more efficiently than fruit crops, which in turn are more efficient than meat in supplying nutrients, Dr. John H. MacGillivray, University of California professor of truck crops, has found.

The reason for this, says Dr. MacGillivray, is the length of the food chain. Vegetable plants use only land and labor before being consumed. Fruits must produce the plant and then the fruit before being available, while meat involves not only plant production and sometimes fruits but the production and growth of the animal.

As a classic example in the field Dr. MacGillivray cites the Eskimo's diet, which consists primarily of seal meat. The seals eat fish, the fish eat snails and other invertebrates, and the snails live on seaweed. To gain 1 pound the Eskimo consumes the equivalent of 625 pounds of seaweed; if he ate fish only 125 pounds of seaweed would be necessary. Similarly, says Dr. MacGillivray, if American taste could be altered to center on the vegetable crops, present nutritive standards could be maintained with less land and labor.

New Closet Wallpaper Contains DDT Insecticide

DDT insecticide, proven during the war to be one of the most effective means of pest control yet developed, has been incorporated in a new type of ready-pasted cedar closet wallpaper.

Moths, ants, flies, mosquitoes, silverfish and many other insects die shortly after coming in contact with this new wallpaper, which contains 5 per cent of active DDT insecticide in the top coating, the manufacturer claims. It is non-hazardous to human beings and domestic animals.

The DDT which in the past has been apparent as a white powder when sprayed or otherwise applied to wallpaper has been dyed to the correct color during the manufacture of this new wallpaper, and so incorporated into the product that it does not show and will not rub off. Guaranteed effective for a year or more, the new wallpaper is similar in appearance to the cedar closet wallpaper which homemakers have been using for many years to line closets, bureau drawers and clothes chests.

Nylon Molecule

The nylon molecule may be likened to a long chain of about 100 links. Within limits, different materials can be used for the links and the materials can be combined differently. Thus nylon may be tailored to meet many specific requirements of stretch, tensile strength, flexibility, and impact strength. Nylon can also be tough but not hard in one form, the amorphous, and hard but less pliable in another form, the crystalline. Nylon's toughness and flexibility suit it well as a leather substitute, although the paucity of solvents for it makes it difficult to apply to a cloth backing. Its high resistance to temperature, flexing and electrical effects makes it useful for some rubber applications, such as wire insulation. Its high abrasion resistance makes possible superior "silk" screens for printing of pigments on ceramics. In the form of coarse single fibers called monofil, nylon is in many instances superior to natural products for such articles as fishing leaders, racket strings, brush bristles, and tire cord.

Save Ice Cream Sugar

It appears that ice cream makers have widely adopted a method of making ice cream by which they can save at least 20 per cent of the sugar normally used. This method is a result of experiments which have been carried on for a long time by the bureau of dairy industry of USDA dating back to the days of World War I. In 1943 the bureau reported that tests they had made had shown that the sweetness of ice cream is dependent on the proportion of sugar to water in the ice cream. With these facts as a basis, they continued experiments, and eventually found that it was possible to use less sugar by using less water and adding more milk solids, the ice cream being just as sweet. Furthermore the food value was not affected. Of course, during the testing period, groups of judges were used as tasters, and their reactions to the sweetness of various batches of ice cream were carefully noted.

Highway Salaries

In 1929, chief state highway engineers' salaries in 44 states averaged $7,106 per year. At the present time, the average of chief engineers' salaries in 39 states is $7,400 — an increase of 5 per cent over 1929. Only in five states is the maximum salary above $10,000. In six states, it is between $8,000 and $9,000. In 12 states, it is between $7,000 and $8,000. In eight states, it is between $6,000 and $7,000. In five states, it is between $5,000 and $6,000 and in four states, it is below $5,000. The bureau heads of the states average $5,000 while division and district engineers' average salaries are $4,650.

Recommends Freezing For Preserving Vine Fruits For Fall, Winter

Freezing Vine Fruits.—The strawberry season is just around the corner, and folks are wondering how to save some of this delicious fruit for fall and winter meals. Freezing is one of the most desirable methods of preserving vine fruits.

Follow these steps in preparing berries for freezing.

First, select only sound, ripe berries. Stem and wash the fruit and take out those that are soft or over-ripe. Large berries should be sliced, small ones may be left whole.

Dry sugar may be used on berries. Use about one cup of sugar to four or five cups of berries. Mix the sugar with the berries and let stand in a cool place until enough juice is drawn out to dissolve the sugar and make its own syrup. If enough is not drawn out, some of the softer fruit should be crushed or cold water added to cover.

March 21, 1946

Pack the berries in containers, seal, label, and put in refrigerator until they can be taken to locker plant.

They should be quick frozen before storing in the locker.

Frozen strawberries are best when eaten before they are completely thawed.

Have you had trouble with strawberries "dripping" in the locker? This may be caused by using too much sugar. Fruit packed in too heavy syrup will partially thaw even at zero temperature.

Jo Ann Odom, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Odom of Cameron Route 1, is a patient in Newton Memorial Hospital, and is doing nicely. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Powell.

Friends of George Walter Malone of Cameron Route 2, will be glad to know he is doing well in Newton Memorial Hospital where he was taken several days ago for treatment.

Mrs. L. W. Raley and two children who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fanning, left last week for Dallas to join her husband.

has remained at his post of duty at all times except in case of illness when he was compelled to remain away for several days at a time. Through his able employees he was able to keep the service of the office at maximum efficiency. His experience in the office, his friends readily point out, is one of the convincing reasons why he should be returned for another term.

Mr. Nabours was born and reared in this county, the son of a prominent pioneer and has been closely associated with the people and the progress which has been made as a result of men like himself who have led out for a better county. During the recent war two of his sons saw foreign duty, one in the American navy and the other in the Canadian military service.

Mr. Nabours hopes to have the time and strength to see the people in all sections of the county to ask their vote and support for re-election to another term. In the event such pleasure for him is not possible, he takes this means of asking for your vote and support. In the coming weeks of the campaign he will spend only such time as he can spare seeing the people. He is grateful to many friends for their active interest and will depend upon them to present his candidacy.

Mr. Nabours in asking for another term makes the same pledge to the people he has made in all past campaigns: That he will be faithful and efficient in the discharge of his duties and in repaying the people for their confidence will devote his entire time and energy to their business in this important branch of the county government.

Mr. and Mrs. Seraphine Wohleb are the proud parents of a 7½ pound son, born March 18, 1946 at Newton Memorial Hospital. His name is Clark Joseph Wohleb.

"Every decent utility in the United States should be glad of public power," he said. "In 90 cases out of 100 the rural electrification co-operatives have to use power lines of the utilities."

"For the past six months this town has been loaded down and seething with utility lobbyists," he said. "They are now before the appropriations subcommittee where we are trying to get a little appropriation for the Southwest Power company (a government agency under the interior department dispensing power in the southwest, including Texas)."

Referring to his previous battle against utility companies in 1935 when congress passed the utility holding company act he authored, Rayburn shouted:

"If the utility people are spoiling for another fight from me they are going to get it."

Girding to Save Erring Youngsters

Justice Department Plans to Curb Delinquency.

WASHINGTON. — Attorney General Clark announced the first step in the justice department's program to curb juvenile delinquency.

In an interview, Clark said he will appoint within a few days a special panel of 25 churchmen, educators, business men and welfare leaders to help the department formulate plans to combat the rising trend in juvenile crimes.

Within a few weeks he will ask representatives of state, county and city governments to meet with the panel and justice department officials to work out remedial measures.

"When 70 per cent of adult criminals are known to have been delinquent in their youth, it is high time that a new step be initiated to curb such a disgraceful situation," Clark asserted, adding: "Erring boys and girls must be saved from continuing lives of crime."

Clark said the panel and the justice department will make a survey of the entire field of juvenile crime. Its findings will be made available to social, juvenile and law enforcing agencies throughout the nation.

"According to a recent report sent me by Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI," Clark said, "21 per cent of all arrests are of persons under 21. More 17-year-olds are arrested than any other age group."

Since 1939, he said, the arrests of girls under 18 have jumped 198 per cent while arrests of boys under 18 have increased 48 per cent.

Clark said he is encouraging all United States attorneys to experiment with the deferred prosecution plan which he said is "achieving gratifying success in eastern New York."

"This procedure," he explained, "permits the delay of prosecution and provisional release by the district attorney of the youthful offenders under official probationary supervision."

"The guilty who are deemed worthy are placed on probation before trial, thus avoiding the stigma of a conviction. If there is no further breach, the record in the case is marked 'not entertained.' Hence there is no black mark against the youth."

Carrier Jet Plane Is

Developed by U. S. Navy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The navy announced development of its first exclusively jet powered fighter plane for carrier operation. Its top speed exceeds 500 miles an hour.

Designated the FD-1 "Phantom," the plane was designed and built by the McDonnell Aircraft corporation, St. Louis, Mo. Already extensively flight-tested, it has a service ceiling of "well over seven miles," the navy said. Primarily designed as an interceptor, it has a range of approximately 1,000 miles.

The "Phantom" is built of light aluminum alloy polished to a finish which presents little air resistance. Total weight of the plane with full combat load is less than 10,000 pounds. The single seat, low wing monoplane has a wing span of approximately 40 feet. The wings fold electrically and when rigged for stowage the plane is only 16 feet wide.

Armament consists of standard fighter armament mounted in the nose.

Per Capita Share of Federal Debt Goes Down

WASHINGTON.—This might cheer you up a bit—

Your per capita share of the prospective national debt is coming down.

A year ago President Roosevelt figured the debt would be 292 billion dollars this year. That would have been $2,118 for every American—man, woman and child.

But with the war over and government finances looking up, the debt now figures to be 271 billion dollars by next year. That works out at $1,935 per capita, thanks to an increase in population as well as a lower debt figure.

Jefferson Davis Home Now Draws Many Visitors

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—The first White House of the Confederacy, the house in which Jefferson Davis lived during his residence in Montgomery, as president of the Confederate States of America, is today a shrine which attracts thousands of visitors annually.

A recent estimate, described as conservative, by leaders of the White House association, placed the number of visitors at more than a thousand a month.

Famine Crisis Now

Menaces South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, S. A.—The Union of South Africa is on the verge of a food crisis, it was authoritatively stated. Meat is scarce and the country must import large quantities of corn and wheat if deaths from starvation are to be avoided among the native population, which in some districts are eating weeds.

During the war road service had to give way in some instances to the demand for materials and man power in the conflict. As a result, Mr. Stidham has not been able to do the things he knows are necessary to keep his Precinct in the best of shape. Now that men and materials are becoming available he says he will soon be in position to resume the normal maintenance and construction work. This, Mr. Stidham promises at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Stidham is a veteran of World War I, having seen foreign duty. In World War II he gave two sons to the service, both of whom saw active duty in three theatres of the war. Grady Stidham, Jr., was in North Africa landings and also in the Mediterranean theatre where he was wounded and flown back to the United States where he remained several months in a military hospital and again reentered combat. Owen Stidham, hero of the naval war in the Pacific was on a submarine and saw the Japs defeated in many of the engagements that led to the ending of the conflict.

Mr. Stidham hopes to be able to see each voter and to ask for their vote and support in the coming campaign but if this pleasure should not be his he takes this means of asking their support. He pledges the people the kind of service that will result in better roads, better conditions for travel and a district financially strong to meet all needs.

Rev. H. M. Bailey, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Maysfield and Mrs. H. G. Newton and Mrs. J. P. Wise of Maysfield represented the Woman's Auxiliary in Bible study at the First Presbyterian church in Temple this week.
